Hi Peter,

I have had some members of my team attend and take a look at the equipment and am told they are very happy with what has been procured. I can advise that I do have a few confirmed Class one operators that can be available. The issue is that they are also tasked with other operational duties, so James has asked DEOC to secure additional Class 1 operators.

If you need anything further, please don't hesitate to let me know.

Thank you
Lee
